Administrative Investigations

2019 Report Year

The Professional Standards Unit divides administrative investigations (personnel complaints) into two (2) categories based upon the source of the complaint. Acts of misconduct reported by the community are labeled as external complaints, while acts of misconduct discovered and reported within the department are labeled as internal complaints.

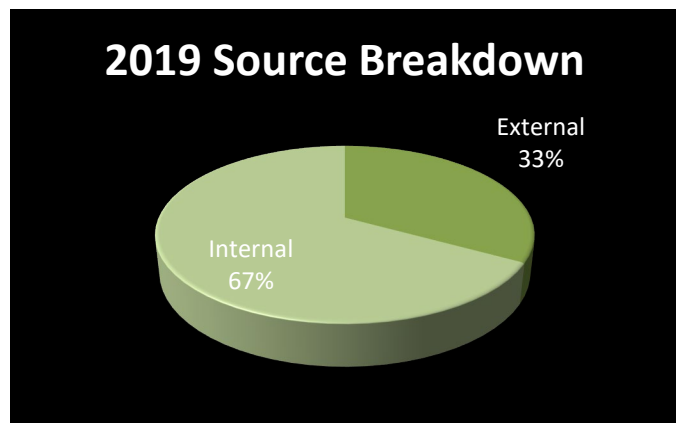

2019 Complaints Received		Sworn	Non-Sworn	Total Employees
External	7	8	1	9
Internal	14	13	2	15
Total	21	21	3	24

Administrative investigations are routinely complex and consist of a lengthy process, but are normally conducted within a time frame of ninety (90) days. While time extensions can be granted based upon the complexity of the investigation or uncontrollable circumstances, this is a rarity. With regard to the aforementioned time frame, yearly statistical reporting will occur by April 1st of the following calendar year to allow for closure of any open administrative investigations. Reports will compare statistical data where possible.

In 2019, the Professional Standards Unit received seven (7) external complaints and fourteen (14) internal complaints for a total of twenty-one (21) complaints. The twenty-one (21) professional standards complaints involved twenty-four (24) employees and required the Professional Standards Unit to conduct twenty-five (25) interviews of members of the public, witness employees, and/or subject employees.

In comparison to 2018, the Professional Standards Unit received one (1) more external complaint, meaning a very minimal increase in citizen generated complaints, as well as, five (5) more internal complaints, which is an illustration of the internal accountability of the agency.

The pie chart to the right provides a visual comparison of sources of the personnel complaints received by the Professional Standards Unit during the 2019 calendar year.

Age & Tenure as a Complaint Factor

2019 Report Year

The graphs below illustrate a breakdown by age and tenure of the twenty-four (24) employees involved in the 2019 professional standard complaints. The chart on the left illustrates the ages of those involved in the complaints and the chart on the right illustrates the tenure of the employees involved. Neither illustration reveals any evident trends or patterns; however the disproportion number of complaints associated with employees under the age of twenty-five (25) with less than five (5) years tenure can be directly associated to the yearly hiring of twenty-four (24) seasonal police officers that serve from May through October.

Classification of Complaints

2019 Report Year

The Professional Standards Unit, which is responsible for investigating all personnel related complaints, receives a wide range of allegations over the course of the calendar year. For statistical reporting purposes, the Professional Standards Unit classifies these complaints into five types of allegations, which are;

- Neglect When an employee fails to complete acts or responsibilities that are within the normal scope of the employee's duties.
- CUBO (Conduct Unbecoming an Officer) When an employee acts or behaves in a manner deemed inappropriate for the employee's position and/or employee's of the police department.
- UOEF (Use of Excessive Force) When it is alleged that an employee used excessive force.

TA (Traffic Accident) When an employee was involved in and believed to be responsible for causing a preventable traffic accident.

Policy When an employee has committed a policy violation that does not meet the above categories.

It is important to note that one (1) complaint can be classified as multiple allegations. For instance, if an allegation was made that an officer was rude and used excessive force, that one (1) complaint would be filed as two (2) allegations; one (1) under UOEF and another under CUBO. For this reason, twenty-one (21) total complaints in 2019 resulted in twenty-four (24) allegations.

Allegation	# of Internal	% of Internal	% of Total	# of External	% of External	% of Total
Neglect	12	80.0%	50.0%	2	22.2%	8.3%
CUBO	3	20.0%	12.5%	7	77.8%	29.2%
UOEF	0	0.0%	0.0%	0	0.0%	0.0%
TA	0	0.0%	0.0%	0	0.0%	0.0%
Policy	0	0.0%	0.0%	0	0.0%	0.0%
	15		62.5%	9		37.5%

Report Date: April 1st, 2020

In 2019, twenty-four (24) employees were subjects of Professional Standards investigations resulting from twenty-one (21) total complaints based on twenty-four (24) allegations. The below chart illustrates the dispositions of the investigations of the twenty-four (24) allegations.

Corrective Action

2019 Report Year

Of the five (5) disposition classifications listed above, only sustained outcomes result in some form of corrective action being taken against the employee. The chart below illustrates a breakdown of the types of corrective actions imposed upon the thirteen (13) employees who were subjects of professional standards investigations that were sustained.

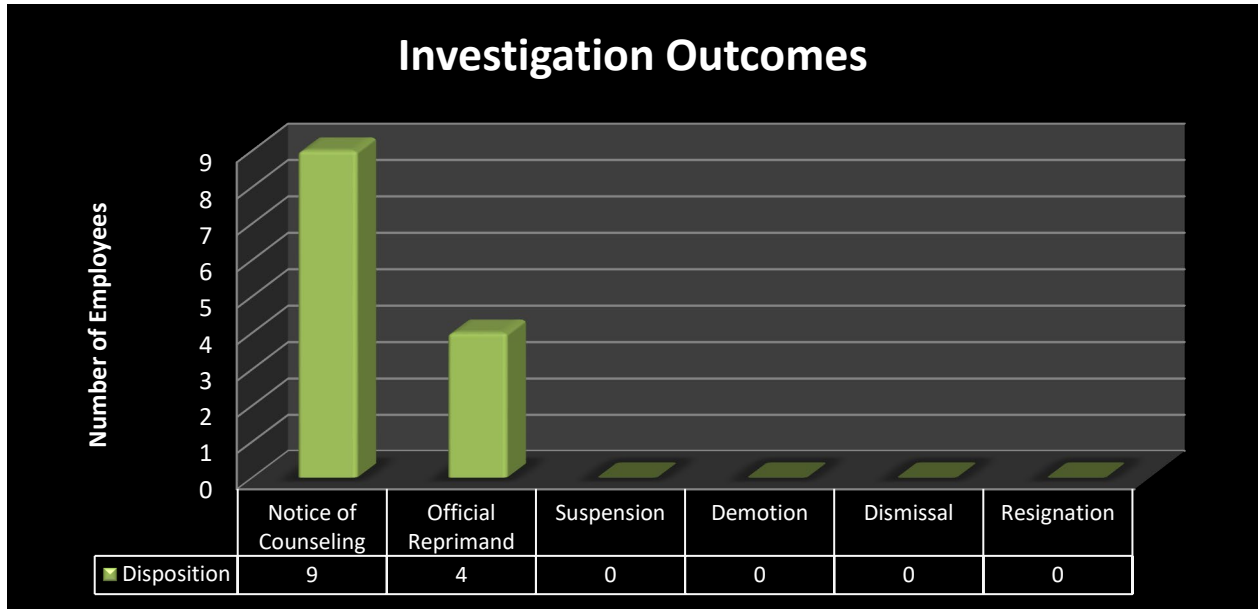

It is important to note that corrective actions taken against employees are a result of sustained investigations and are determined by a disciplinary matrix associated with the departmental rules of conduct. Therefore, less serious violations of the rules of conduct will result in less punitive corrective actions, such as a notice of counseling or an official reprimand.
